GENERAL COMMENTS

FCDPHE received a complaint stating that Taco Bell employees were not wearing gloves, no hand washing after the bathroom, that food was being picked up off the floor and reused, and that an employees nose was wiped with back of hand while making food.

Complaint could not be verified during inspection. All food employees observed were wearing gloves and hand washing appropriately. Observed one employee fail to change gloves after touching clothes. Remind employees to wash hands and change gloves when contamination has occurred or there is an interruption in task.

When employees were asked about handwashing, they stated that after use of the restroom they follow the double handwash (handwashing in the restroom and again after returning to the kitchen).

During inspection, food on floor was observed being swept up and placed in trash can.
